The First Judicial District of Pennsylvania, Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia, launched its Civil Electronic Filing System in August 2008. Effective January 5, 2009, the electronic filing of all civil matters in Philadelphia became mandatory. Anyone handling civil cases should be a registered user of the system. This course will provide in-depth instruction on the use of the electronic filing system. The electronic filing system was designed to allow for the filing of all civil cases and legal documents via the Internet from anywhere and at anytime using a personal computer. The system currently provides attorneys and litigants with unlimited online access to all papers and legal documents filed in their cases.
